

The Student Millionaire Minute #9 of 10 – Courage and Confidence

Sometimes it takes a lot of Courage and Confidence to Believe enough in yourself to chart your own course in life, one that's right for you.

These Decisions can take a lot of Courage and Confidence because whatever your goals, they may sometimes set you apart from the people around you.

So how do you stick to your goals?

By having the Courage and Confidence to do so.

You develop your Courage and Confidence by thinking for yourself and not letting your Decisions be made for you!

Tough to do? Can be. But you have to do it if achieving your goals like going on to college or becoming a Millionaire are things you want to do.

And this is where Believing in yourself is so critically important.
